How to Become an Author

You have a manuscript, just contact us and let us know what wish to publish and how you want your book to look like, and we will make it sure that you choose the best publishing service. Once your publishing process has begun we will guide and consult you all the way till your book has been published.

Don't Worry, we won't stop here, the process has just begun. We pride ourselves to provide our author's world's best distribution channel of books in printed and digital formats. After your book is published we provide it with very comprehensive sales channels and your books are listed on world's leading websites like Amazon, Barnes & Nobles, Google, Apple, Kobo, Sony etc for sale.

The Process to get published

1. Contact us and get in touch with our publishing consultant and discuss your publishing goal.
2. Choose your package and submit your material for Self Publishing. As soon as you have purchased your package a dedicated project coordinator will be assigned to you to discuss further in your project
3. After the project coordinator has received all your material he or she would get your book cover and interior designed and get the same approved from you. If the draft is ok then the project coordinator would send the book to the production department, or if there are changes then the same is implemented.
4. After your final approval has been made, the book is sent to the production department for printing and our technical team takes over the conversion of the book into an e-book.
5. As soon as your books are printed and e-book is ready the details of it are sent to all our retailer channel partners across the world for sale.
